

Pissarro

The first Impressionist

Art Gallery of New South Wales
19 November 05 – 19 February 06

'This exhibition will reveal a majestic, tireless and profound figure in the story of Impressionism.'

Edmund Capon

Pissarro: the first Impressionist is the largest exhibition of a major Impressionist artist ever to be held in Australia. Comprising of more than 100 paintings and works on paper, it includes some of the artist's most famous paintings.

Camille Pissarro (1830–1903) was one of the leading and most influential French Impressionists. An ambitious and innovative painter, he was the only artist to participate in all eight of the historical Impressionist exhibitions held in Paris between 1874 and 1886, and was the principal organiser of the first exhibition.

Over 40 of the world's leading art museums have lent works for this landmark exhibition, including the Metropolitan Museum, New York; Museum of Fine Arts, Boston; Musée d'Orsay, Paris; Tate, London; The J. Paul Getty Museum and Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Art Institute of Chicago and the National Gallery of Art, Washington.

“I am delighted to be able to paint these Paris streets ... which are so silvery, so luminous, so vital. This is completely modern.”

Camille Pissarro 1897

Pissarro “was somebody to consult, someone like the good Lord.”

Paul Cézanne

Pissarro was a constant beat at the heart of the Impressionist movement as participant, artist, teacher, adviser and friend. He was not only regarded as the unifying figure of the Impressionist group, but was revered by the artists he mentored, including Cézanne, Gauguin, Seurat, van Gogh and Matisse. Pissarro also worked closely with artists such as Monet, Renoir and Degas, who were among his closest friends.

Pissarro is best loved and remembered for his distinctively picturesque landscapes: original and tender compositions of clouds and smokestacks, green pastures, horses and steam trains all harmonised by a delicate accord of vibrating brushstrokes, tones and colours.

“There is something utterly touching and beautiful about this artist [Pissarro]. It is the example of his perpetual renewal.”

Gustave Geffroy 1898
